ANTIQUE DOUGLAS FIR BEAMS

ANTIQUE HEART PINE COUNTERTOP

Reclamation Lumber LLC is located in a 20,000 square foot former trolley garage minutes from downtown New Haven, Connecticut. The work of processing antique reclaimed wood to produce custom flooring, beams, millwork and material for cabinetry, countertops and other unique products commences at this facility.

Reclamation Lumber, like many businesses, started as an idea. In the early 1990's this particular idea was "let's buy an old barn, take it down and sell the wood". After looking at a few structures, we came across a defunct factory in our backyard. Unbeknownst to us, The Winchester Repeating Arms Factory had moved to a modern facility nearby and the old manufacturing plant was slated for demolition. After some serious sleuthing we were granted permission to "reclaim" the original Winchester gunstock drying shed which was comprised of a mixture of materials including Southern yellow pine and Douglas fir. We found a buyer for much of this material and the business was born.

The folks at Reclamation Lumber first came to us in 2004, and as their needs grew so did their need for more dust collection. Over the years we have continued to provide them with various ducting solutions for their multiple woodworking machining centers.
